

Hello! I listen to a national Christian rock radio station, K-LOVE, that I understand may become a lesser priority station (via translators) if LPFM stations are given a higher priority. I would like to express my opinion in favor of keeping the system either as it currently is, or by some other method of helping the LPFM stations.

I have found K-LOVE to be an excellent way to not only help me personally in keeping my priorities and values in line, but by finding other people who feel the same, merely by my hearing their radios tuned to the same station.

My husband & I are often transferred with his company (about once every 1-2 yrs), and being able to find a local translator with the same station is very comforting, particularly when I know that my friends & family in other cities are hearing the same positive, encouraging & affirming music and information. Taking away the ability for our community to hear such a great station means taking away a great outlet to our right to practice our faith and religion, devoid of any specific denomination's tenets ~ just great fellowship time with other "everyday" folks!

I have heard testimonies of people who have come to find a better way of living simply by either finding the station on their radio's dial while searching for a station, or by hearing another person listening to the station & saying, "Hey ~ what's that song you're listening to? I really like it!"

Thank you so much for taking the time read my comments. I know that your job is to help others, and your actions by simply reading my note reflect that. Please continue your history of helping by allowing stations such as K-LOVE to offer programming that is not given a lesser priority in their translators. Thanks again & have a great day!
